

Hoffman Re-elected President of C. of C.

At the Chamber of Commerce banquet held at Prewitt & Botts hall Tuesday night, Harry G. Hoffman was unanimously re-elected president for the ensuing year. Mr. Hoffman at first declined to even consider holding the office longer, but as every member present was unanimous in their opinion that he was the ONE man for the job, and the only one that could satisfactorily fill the place, after considerable pressure had been brought to bear, he finally reluctantly consented to accept the office for another year. Although there is no question that in accomplishing the things that the Chamber of Commerce has, Mr. Hoffman, as its head, has received no little criticism, he must remember, however, that anyone who really does things is sure of being criticised, and it is really a compliment to one's ability. In most cities where there is a business men's organization there is a paid secretary who looks after the work which Mr. Hoffman has so ably done without one cent of compensation, and in many cases he has been known to neglect his own private affairs to look after the interests of the Chamber of Commerce, and in having a man of the ability of Mr. Hoffman Mt. Sterling is indeed fortunate. Although the Chamber of Commerce under his guidance has accomplished many needed improvements, we predict that with proper co-operation from the members and citizens at large the work of this organization has only begun.

Other officers selected were: W. T. Tyler, vice president; Dawson Brother, secretary, and Claude Killpatrick, treasurer.

The banquet was elegantly served by the Country Women's Club, and splendid music was furnished by Rev. Charles Ray, Miss Flo Shirley, Darwin and Peyton Ray, Earl King Senff, Paul Strother and Miss Christine Ramey. During the hours several delightful solos were given by Dr. Ray and a quartet composed of Dr. Ray, Messrs. Senff, Keller and McCormick. The principal speaker of the evening was C. M. Jouett, Cynthia, who made a splendid talk on "Why I Am a Member of the Chamber of Commerce." His language was beautiful, his remarks to the point

Winchester Will Be Here Sunday

The fast climbing Winchester representatives in the Blue Grass League will be the attraction at Fair Grounds park Sunday afternoon. "Tot" Frank will likely be in the box for the locals and it is confidently expected that the Essex nine will be returned the winner. The locals are doing battle with the Cynthia team as we go to press this afternoon and "Lefty" Townsend is in the box.

A long stretch of bleachers has been erected at the local park between third base and the home plate which will give the grounds ample seating capacity to take care of the immense crowds which are expected to be on hand during the remainder of the season. We took Maysville into camp last Sunday and the slogan for this Sunday is, "Let's get Winchester." Everybody come out and help do your part.

and his manner of speech most pleasing. Mr. Jouett is a man of strong personality and his remarks made a lasting imprint upon all present.

The meeting was presided over by President H. G. Hoffman who, during his brief remarks, recited some of the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during the last year, namely: The raising of $100,000 to build a new hotel; a radical reduction in freight rates which puts us on a competitive basis with our sister cities; the extension of the delivery service of the express company to the city limits; the financing of the good roads bond issue, and many other achievements of a lesser nature.

A committee was named to confer with Rev. Ray as to the feasibility of forming a boys' band and it is more than likely that within the near future, with the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce, Mt. Sterling will be able to boast of a band of its own.

There being no other matters brought before the body, the meeting adjourned until September, when the regular semi-monthly luncheons will be resumed.

Long Green Firm Adding New Lines

The Long Green Tobacco Company has made a marvelous success of introducing its favorite twist, "Long Green." The firm works expert tobacco manufacturers and very recently added an inspector so that nothing but the highest grades with perfect leaves will be in the products.

In addition to the favorite twist the firm has added two other twists that go by the name of "Grape Wine."

They are each sweetened tobacco, one made from the black belt stock and the other from the burley stock. These twists find favor with many users of the weed and if the company continues to increase in popularity the management will be compelled to add to both force and manufacturing space.

How many citizens of Mt. Sterling are there with civic pride sufficient to induce a visit to this plant, the products of which are growing daily in favor? The young men at the head of this manufacturing corporation would, we are sure, appreciate your expressions of good will. We have said in former articles that the products from this plant go into every city of any importance in the state, as well as many outside the state; that its money returns have Mt. Sterling for its distributing point and that the pay roll makes a circulating medium worth much to business interests here, and to what we have said in former editions we repeat, "Much is being added to."

SOCIETY CELEBRATES

An anniversary celebration of the Louise Loos Campbell Missionary Society was given at the home of Mrs. Bruce W. Trimble Tuesday evening, and a large number of members were present. A delightful program was given. Miss Rannie Burroughs and Elder Clyde Darsie made splendid talks, and a duet was given by Mrs. H. M. Bishop and Mrs. S. F. Hamilton, while Mrs. W. C. Hamilton gave two readings from Eugene Fields and James Whitcomb Riley. Refreshments of ice cream and cake and candy were served, and the occasion was one of much pleasure.

Bell County Elections Confirmed

Judge Henry R. Prewitt, who was designated by the governor to act as special judge to try the contested election cases of Edward Pursiful vs. Henry Broughton, county clerk; Frank Kearns vs. James Howard for jailer; J. F. Asher vs. Martin Green for sheriff, and D. M. Bingham vs. T. C. Anderson for county attorney, yesterday sent to the clerk of Bell county judgments in each of the cases dismissing the petitions of the plaintiffs and confirming the elections of the defendants for the respective offices for which they had heretofore received the certificates of election.

These cases have attracted a great deal of attention in Bell county. James Howard and Henry Broughton were candidates on the Republican ticket and Martin Green and T. C. Anderson were candidates on the Law and Order ticket. The county is largely Republican, but on account of local dissatisfaction two of the Independent candidates were awarded the certificates of election and are now in office.

A great number of witnesses were introduced on each side, the records in the cases containing over 2,000 pages. Some of the best legal talent of Kentucky was employed on each side of the cases.

Ex-Governor James D. Black represented two of the successful candidates, as well as two of the unsuccessful ones in the contest.

Mr. Harvey Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling will be the best man, and Richard Thomas, Paris, will be the groomsmen.

Executives To Meet In Bath Capital

The executives of Eastern Kentucky commercial organizations will meet in Owingsville on June 20 and over 300 visitors are expected to be present. On this date the Lexington Boosters will visit Owingsville, arriving there in time to attend the luncheon meeting. About 100 of Lexington's business men, headed by a brass band, will make the trip. They will arrive in Mt. Sterling at 10:45 and will be entertained for a short while, going from here to the Bath capital.

A splendid program has been arranged for the commercial organizations' meeting, and is as follows: Business and the Church—Rev. H. S. Ficklin, Owingsville.

Our Commercial Obligations to Kentucky Schools—Hon. George Colvin, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Program of Work, How Developed and Its Use—E. G. Kingsbury, Winchester.

What the Commercial Organizations Can Do to Assist Road Building in Kentucky—Hon. Joseph S. Boggs, State Highway Engineer, of Frankfort.

The Midland Trail and Bath County—Hon. Green Garrett, member of State Highway Commission, Winchester.

THREE CRUSHES AT MT. STERLING BOTTLING WORKS

In this issue is an advertisement of the Mt. Sterling Bottling Works. They are in a campaign to give away $69.99 in prizes.

The advertisement explains the nature of the contest and the object of the bottling company is to introduce the most palatable drinks yet given to the public. They consist of Ward's Orange, Lemon and Lime Crushes. Some one is going to win these prizes and the company wants it understood that it will not be any one of the employees of the bottling works, but some one individual that buys the drink by the bottle. The crush is natural with the perfect orange flavor, perfect lemon flavor and perfect lime flavor. Some one who drinks these delicious crushes will get the prizes.

Besides being delicious, pleasing and refreshing drinks, they are very healthful. These drinks are found at all soft drink stands and are sold at five cents per bottle. Save your top and win one of the 27 prizes.

Three Games a Week Likely

At a meeting of the various baseball clubs of the Blue Grass League, held in Lexington last night, it was the opinion of a majority of those present that a three-game a week schedule should be adopted, while no definite action was taken. Playing days were talked of from two to seven a week, but a majority seemed to indicate that the three-game a week schedule will be adopted within the next few days. It is understood a new schedule will be arranged, one which will give all the clubs an equal number of Sunday games at home, and the playing days will likely be Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Another meeting will be held in the near future, at which time definite action on the matter will be taken. The Mt. Sterling representatives favored four games a week, but agreed to three as a compromise.

FUNDS AVAILABLE TO BUILD 46,000 MILES OF GOOD ROADS

The $350,000,000 appropriated by congress as federal aid in conjunction with state funds will result in the construction of about 46,000 miles of road, says the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. This mileage would parallel the railroad from New York to San Francisco nearly fifteen times, or, if divided equally among the states, would give nearly 1,000 miles to each state.

The status of road building April 30 was as follows: In projects entirely complete, a total of 16,375; under construction, 13,950 miles in projects, averaging 62 per cent complete. A considerable part of the latter mileage is actually complete and in service. In addition, funds have been allotted to 7,511 miles, much of which will come under construction during the present season. Besides this there is still available for new projects $60,148,000, which on the same basis as previous federal aid construction will result in the construction of 8,200 miles of highway. In March the fund available for new projects was taken up at the rate of $12,000,000 a month and at the rate of $5,700,000 in April.

The iceless refrigerator was developed by extension workers as a home convenience for use in hot, dry climates where it is difficult to secure ice. A report has been received by the United States Department of Agriculture showing how the principle of the iceless refrigerator has been successfully applied by a Wyoming woman florist to keeping cut flowers in good condition.

GOVERNMENT HUNTER KILLS DESTRUCTIVE ARKANSAS WOLF

Another notorious wolf has been killed by a hunter of the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. This wolf, while not so famous as the Custer, Bartlett and other killers of the west, was nevertheless known more than locally as a very destructive animal. He is said to have ranged through Taney and Ozark counties, Missouri, as well as in Boone and Marion counties, Arkansas, and to have destroyed many thousands of dollars' worth of livestock, including full-grown cows and steers, during a period of at least six years.

EMPTY PEWS EXPENSIVE

A newspaper man of over sixty years' experience, J. L. Waite, editor of the Burlington, Iowa, Hawk-Eye, is profoundly impressed by the magnitude of the opportunity to reach and influence, through the secular press, the great mass of non-church going people, and quotes a Minneapolis minister, "The most expensive thing about a church is an empty pew, for it costs no more to prepare a service for a houseful than a handful."

Regardless of the propriety of the old attitude of dignified repugnance to appealing to possible attendants through the public prints, churches are brought face to face with the fact that a multitude of other interests are continually appealing to the public for its attention and if religion would not be neglected by the majority use must be made of the same medium used by promoters of other things—advertising.

In the past churches have relied entirely on personal solicitation and such free reading notices as editors felt it their duty to give them. That this method is not efficacious in this day is obvious and admitted.

The recognition by leading divines of advertising as a remedy for empty pews shows the swing of sentiment, but few newspapers are taking advantage of it and promoting any church advertising as they might and as they do other sorts.—Fourth Estate.

Offer $700,000 Stock In Pool Subsidiaries

An issue of seven hundred thousand dollars of preferred stock in the various warehousing corporations subsidiaries of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is being offered this week and next to growers of the district. It is the wish of President James C. Stone and the directors of the association that growers be given the first opportunity to subscribe for this stock and banks throughout the burley district will receive subscriptions.

The preparations for the issue are in the hands of fiscal agents, Jas. C. Willson & Company, the well known stock brokers of Louisville, who will advertise the issue in all the newspapers of the burley district the coming week. The stock subscriptions must be in the hands of the fiscal agents or of the association by June 15, as the warehouse properties are to be taken over as of that date, under the warehouse contracts signed by the former owners on the one hand and Director of Warehouses R. M. Barker, acting for the association, on the other.

The stock, in order to make it attractive even to the smallest grower, will be issued in shares of $0 par value, thus giving every grower an opportunity to own some of this stock. It will pay eight per cent guaranteed dividend, the man association being the guarantor of both principal and dividend, and should prove, in the opinion of bankers of the district, an attractive investment.

Nearly 500 additional contracts were received the past week at the office of the field service division of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, Assistant Chief William Collins reported. The exact number was 486. Assistant Manager James A. Dixon, of the Huntington, W. Va., district, said that 187 contracts had been signed in that territory. These, however, had not been received at the field service division offices and, therefore, were not included in the week's report of contracts received.

Mr. Dixon, who was in Lexington for a brief visit before returning to his field of labor, said the association was gaining rapidly in western West Virginia and eastern Ohio and that the campaign had reached a point at which it was deemed advisable to start county organizations. Many of the burley growers, of Gallia and Lawrence counties in Ohio have signed the contract. A warehouse interests are waging a vigorous warfare on the association, but with a purpose so evident that it is having little effect in that territory.

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker returned from a week's active work in the field, having finished valuing warehouses over the entire district. The past week he was in southern Ohio, including the towns of Ripley, Georgetown, Peebles and West Union, and also visited Brooksville, Augusta, Vanceburg and Grayson.

"I didn't find a single sorehead on the trip," said Mr. Barker. "We have arranged for the taking over of almost all the warehouses and have had no difficulty in reaching an agreement with the owners as to actual value, without arbitration. I have found the warehouse men fair and an entire absence of any disposition to take advantage of the association. We rather expected that situation, inasmuch as most of the warehousemen are tobacco growers and members of the association."

E. M. Mansfield, of Carrollton, who was in Lexington Saturday, said that in his opinion, the crop of 1922 would not exceed ten per cent more than the crop of last year in the counties he had visited. Mr. Mansfield said that most of the crop had been set out and that the plants are in fine condition.

Mr. Mansfield said further that the crop had been planted earlier by fully fifteen days than for many years past, most of it having been set in May. He said the cool nights and wet weather aided the growth of the young plants.

Assistant Chief Collins went to Adair county Tuesday and spoke in the afternoon at Columbia, when a special effort was made to sign up all the outsiders in that county. The meeting was called by G. R. Reed, chairman for Adair county, and as Tuesday was county court day a big crowd heard Mr. Collins.

Adair county growers are practically assured of a receiving plant for their crops if they sign up the county. Green county growers also want a receiving plant at Greensburg and this, it was said at association headquarters, will be granted if the sign-up warrants it.

Serve these delicious drinks at home, parties, social gatherings, dances—everywhere that refreshments are in order. Save the crowns every time. You will be surprised to see how fast your collection will grow.

Ingredients—The three "Crush" drinks get their flavors from the delicate fruit oils pressed from the fresh outer skins of oranges, lemons or limes, to which are added juices from these fruits, cane sugar, U. S. certified food color, carbonated water and citric acid, the natural acid of oranges, lemons and limes.

Prepared only by Orange-Crush Company—Chicago, Winnipeg, London

Women Kidnapped by Desperado

Kidnapped by a maniac and held prisoner without food or water for fifty hours was the thrilling experience of Mrs. James Jenkins (left) and Miss Gertrude McMann (right) of Omaha, Nebraska. H. E. Boyd, shown in the picture, came to their rescue but was also captured and chained to them. They were held in a shack of the kidnapper, a desperado named Gus Grimes. Boyd finally escaped and brought help to the women.

GIVE COMMANDS RARELY

In a well-ordered household where the children are properly trained, it is surprising how few direct commands are necessary.

Such remarks as "close the door," "stop your noise," "don't throw pillows," "eat with your fork" and "be careful of those books," are unnecessary because they have been implied all through the lives of the children. A baby two years old has learned the fundamentals that control actions resulting from these and similar commands. He has been taught to close doors and do it quietly until the action is reflex. He doesn't need to be told to stop his noise, because he has learned that any excessive uproar has unpleasant consequences. The very first time he threw a pillow he was shown that it nearly hit the lamp, and that it also tore a corner of the pillow. Yes, there was a reason why pillows should not be thrown about, and having this fixed in his mind he doesn't have to be told all the time, or every day. So with dozens of other items in discipline.

Our commands resemble the sign board placed along the highway that says "dangerous curve ahead." The first time the driver goes over the road he is controlled entirely by the wording on the sign. He stops and reads it and then drives slowly until he has negotiated the turn. But after much driving over the same stretch of road he knows he must slow up, and clamps on the brakes without even glancing at the sign. As far as he is concerned the sign could be removed, for he doesn't need it.

However, the important point with mothers is to get the sign up in time. Of course there is some work to making signboards. They have to be carved and outlined and painted, and afterwards put up securely, but once established they do their duty. So it is with our commands. The first two or three years we prepare the signboard. And after that the rules which govern the road are learned so well, that we need not call attention any longer to the bumps and curves and rough spots. The children slow up for these without being told and without any effort from us.

So we will find in a well-trained family that the direct commands are few, and because of this fact when they are given, obedience is almost assured. But like a powerful machine that we admire because it runs so smoothly and noiselessly, someone behind the scenes has been oiling the wheels, and in this case someone is Mother.—Edith Lochridge Reid.

JOINT STOCK LAND BANK REPRESENTED HERE

F. H. Engelken, manager of the Joint Stock Land Bank, Lexington, with headquarters in the Security Trust building, was in the city Monday and appointed the Hoffman Insurance Agency his representative, with R. G. Kern attorney for the local representative.

This corporation, as the name indicates, deals with our farm interests, providing them with needed money on paper secured by land mortgages at the legal rate, and is so systematized that the obligation, great or small, creates a sinking fund by which the obligation is paid at the end of forty years. With this system properly worked there is no reason for an industrious farmer to have fears of bankruptcy or of business scare.

Manager Engelken knows his lesson in finances well, is a fluent and pleasing conversationalist, drives to the point and is clear and convincing. With this system here under the full charge of J. Miller Hoffman, with all the money needed, those of our farmers in straitened circumstances can find relief. Talk with J. Miller Hoffman, farmer; he has the relief anecdote.

NON-PARTISAN

In former issues we have defined the word non-partisan and said what is required to make a non-partisan candidate. The teachers of the state endorsed unanimously Prof. McHenry Rhoads as a candidate for superintendent of public instruction. Now we repeat, should the two dominant parties declare for Prof. Rhoads for superintendent of public instruction and Prof. Rhoads should accept both nominations, this act declares him a non-partisan candidate. If Prof. Rhoads is favored by educators of both Democratic and Republican parties, why not each party have a meeting and declare for him with whole-heartedness so that no man would dare to oppose? Such a course is non-partisan.

PROHIBITION

The question has been asked, "Does prohibition prohibit?" Should we answer to the letter we would say, "No." But that there are fewer drunkards; that business is transacted more agreeably than with drunken men, and that the anti is howling for the return to saloon days, is evidence that prohibition is the safe side to which to anchor. Will the licensed saloon, a menace to the race, return to the state's business roll? The question is easily answered so long as temperance business people are kept on guard.

TEA HOUNDS AND CAKE EATERS

We wonder if the Rev. J. K. Stewart, of the Northwestern Alumni Association, believes the country is going to the demerit bow-bows because he insists the university students are developing into spineless weaklings, tea hounds and cake eaters.

"Athletics," says Dr. Stewart, "have become impossible. There is no need to hire coaches so long as this situation continues. Out of 1,700 male students in this university only twenty-two turned out to take part in athletics. Young men are developing into spineless weaklings instead of real men. This condition must or will stop or the ruin of the university is inevitable."

All very interesting, but perhaps the cause of the trouble may be found in those who conduct the colleges rather than in the young gentlemen who attend them. If college athletics were stripped of their trickery and the students were not compelled to mingle with rough necks and ignoramuses camouflaged as college men, but in reality hired for pay to keep up the athletic standard of the teams, those who are legitimately engaged in rounding out an education might take a deeper interest in their college athletics.

The trouble is that college athletics have been turned in to a business. The professor in the study room prates of high moral standards and then urges the young men to hot foot it to the athletic field, there to rah, rah over the achievements of some husky "student" who, save for his skill on its field, would not get within ten miles of a college campus. When amateur athletics are kept as amateur athletics perhaps the call of the tea cup will not be so enticing.

Baumont Property To Be Sold June 19

Money seeking a paying investment will have an opportunity at 3 o'clock p. m., Monday, court day. On the first page of the Advocate is an advertisement announcing the sale of the Baumont hotel property at public auction.

The proceeds from this property are now netting a good income and should it fall into hands that would modernize it, 6 per cent could be secured from an investment of $50,000 or more. The property is located on the Midland Trail, West Main street, in the very heart of the city, and is very desirable. In addition to the hotel proper there is a vacant business lot on the east and two business rooms on the west. These business houses are three stories and so constructed as to become an annex to the hotel.

This property is well worthy to be considered. Someone is going to get a money maker. Who will it be?

Remember, this Midland Trail property will be sold Monday afternoon, June 19. Keep your eyes on the auctioneer and don't let this piece of property get away from you.

The hotel and annex have more than 25 rooms and not to be filled every night is exceptional. If interested, Mr. Laughlin, the present lessee, will be pleased to show you through. Again, we repeat, time of sale is 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 19, court day, in front of the hotel. This property will be sold.

Men, buy 6 pairs of these 25c Sox for 95c this week. All colors. Don't miss this bargain.—The Walsh Co.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT

General crop conditions in Kentucky are shown to be 11.6 per cent above the 10-year average in the June crop report for this state issued by the United States Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates in cooperation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna. The condition of crops in Kentucky on June 1 indicated the production of approximately 8,644,000 bushels of wheat; 6,550,000 bushels of oats; 176,000 bushels of barley; 239,000 bushels of rye; 1,222,000 tons of hay; 3,943,000 bushels of apples; 1,102,000 bushels of peaches. Compared with 1921 this would be an increase of 2,304,000 bushels of wheat; 983,000 bushels of oats; 32,000 bushels of barley; 59,000 bushels of rye; 95,000 tons of hay; 3,307,000 bushels of apples, and 1,022,000 bushels peaches. Actual yields may turn out less or more than these estimates, depending on whether conditions are peculiarly favorable or unfavorable between now and the time these crops are harvested or gathered.

Reports on acreage and condition of tobacco and corn will be issued on July 12.

The Kentucky wheat crop this season in practically every part of the state gave promise of being one of the best in recent years, but as it began filling considerable red rust developed, and there was some complaint of poor filling and of lodging. Condition June 1, 93 per cent, compared to the 10-year average of 82 per cent. Acreage of oats is 8 per cent less than 1921, with condition June 1 90 per cent compared to the 10-year average of 84 per cent. Barley acreage in Kentucky is about 2 per cent more than in 1921, and the condition June 1 96 per cent compared to the 10-year average of 90 per cent. Hays of all kinds was 90 per cent compared to the 10-year average of 82 per cent. Clover hay acreage is 5 per cent greater than in 1921 and the condition 94 per cent compared to the 10-year average of 85 per cent. Alfalfa condition is 96 per cent and the acreage 6 per cent more than in 1921. Pasture is excellent in practically all sections of the state, and a heavy blue grass seed crop has been stripped, about 650,000 bushels. Hemp acreage is exceedingly small this year. Condition of apples is 70 per cent; peaches 82 per cent; pears 64 per cent; field peas and beans 90 per cent; cabbage 91 per cent; onions 92 per cent; blackberries 97 per cent; watermelons 86 per cent; muskmelons and cantaloupes 87 per cent.

PROPER SHADE FOR SHEEP RETURNS LARGE DIVIDENDS

Plenty of the right kind of shade for sheep returns big dividends, farmers and sheep raisers say. Only one or two shade trees in a pasture are worse than none at all times since a place to which the sheep come day after day becomes a hotbed for parasites, they add. The construction of small shades which can be moved from place to place is solving the difficulty for many Kentucky farmers.

A cheap permanent shade constructed by setting posts in the ground to support a roof of boards is giving good results on the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm. The only objection found with the structure was the fact that the roof let water through in rainy weather and the resting place of the sheep became muddy. This fault can be remedied at a somewhat increased cost by covering the boards with roofing paper. The usefulness of such a shed is increased by placing it on runners or wheels so that it can be moved from place to place.

RED BLOOD OF BUSINESS

Newspaper advertising is the red blood of business. It is the power that put the merchant's goods into the homes of the people. It is a necessity in modern business methods. It revives the sluggish business and puts new life into the atmosphere. It goes into the homes of the people you want to reach—your home people, people who know you and who know, when they read your advertisement in their home paper, that you are talking facts.—Fourth Estate.

Individuality and personality is pretty nearly everything with an editor.

MAN AND HIS SHOES

How much a man is like his shoes!

For instance, both a soul may lose; Both have been tanned; both are made tight

By cobblers; both get left and right; Both need a mate to be complete; They both need healing; oft are sold; And both in time will turn to mold. With shoes the last is first; with men The first shall be last, and when The shoes wear out they're mended new;

When men wear out they're mended, too!

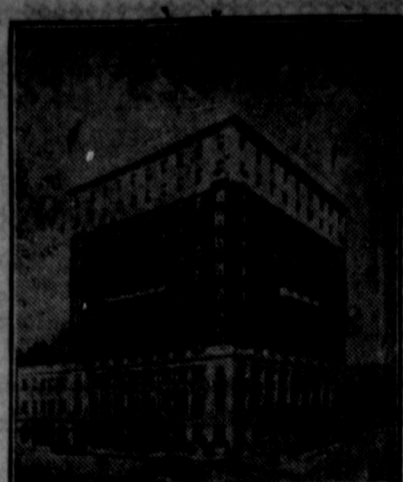

They both are tread upon, and both Will tread on others; nothing loath. Both have their ties, and both incline

When polished in the world to shine; And both peg out, now would you choose

To be a man or be his shoes?

One man says Conan Doyle is a menace to America. What he really means is that those who "fall for" his notions are.

PRICE ERRORS IN ADVERTISING

Sometimes typographical errors occur in price figures in merchants' advertisements and there are people who will press the store to sell for the errorful price if it is low, and even threaten the proprietor on the ground that he has contracted with the trade to sell the article at the price quoted in the ad.

Edmund L. Craig, a New York lawyer, has looked up this matter and in a letter to The Flower Grower, of Utica, he says this on "The Legal Phase of the Price Errors in Advertising":

"I have recently gone into this question for a client. The general rule is stated in a recently published law book as follows: 'Business advertisements published in newspapers or circulars sent out by mail or distributed by hand, stating that the advertiser has a certain quantity or quality of goods which he wants to dispose of at certain prices, are not offers which become contracts as soon as any person to whose notice they may come signifies his acceptance by notifying the other that he will take a certain quantity of them; they are simply invitations to all persons who may read that the advertiser is ready to receive offers for the goods at the price stated.'

"The order of the prospective buyer does not ripen into a contract of sale until the seller's acceptance, and then only as to goods specifically ordered. This was decided by the supreme court of Massachusetts in the case of Montgomery, Ward & Co. vs. Johnson, 209 Mass 89, where the cases are collected.

"The above statement of the law applies where there was no mistake. In the case of a mistake in the advertisement, another rule might be invoked, that the minds of the parties had never met which is necessary to a binding contract."

If fit, style and quality appeal to you, then you want our Royal Palm Beach coats and pants at $15.—The Walsh Co.

Hail Destroys Millions of Dollars of Tobacco

The loss of tobacco by hail in this and other tobacco states within the last five years has run up into millions of dollars with only a small part covered by insurance.

Yet, the amount of insurance received by growers who had the foresight thus to protect themselves against such loss, was enormous and should make every grower not only feel the necessity of insuring his tobacco crop against hail storms loss but to do that very thing and do it at once.

What Dr. Halley Says: Dr. Samuel H. Halley, of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, upon congratulating an insurance company upon lowering its rates on tobacco hail insurance, said, "Within the period that I have had hail insurance I have had four severe losses. The money I received exceeded considerably what I paid in, to say nothing of my peace of mind that I was fully protected in case of a storm. I have always advocated carrying hail insurance on tobacco without which every grower takes a chance to lose all. With it he can, in safety, go into the business of producing a crop which requires, as does tobacco, so much labor, time and money."

Now that the Burley Growers have gone into an organization to handle their business in a modern economic business-like way, I see no reason why all growers can not take out insurance on the reduced rates the companies are now quoting. Look up the insurance agent in your section now, and let him protect you against the loss of your tobacco. Policies effective July 10th, noon.

NEW MOTTOES MADE BY THE MOTOR CAR

Still motors run sweet. Home is where the car is. A soft tire turneth away cash. While there's gas there's hope. Fools pass on hills and curves. A wise driver maketh a glad auto. It is better to be slow than sorry. Declines make the wheels go faster. Dry springs squeak louder than "birds." To speed is human; to get caught is fine. As the wheel is bent so the car will go. Where there's a nail there's a puncture. A body's as old as its paint; a motor's as old as it pulls. Spin and the world spins with you; stall and you stall alone.

EASY MARKS FOR EASY MARKS

With German marks being peddled around at three for a cent perhaps there was an excuse for the New York wag who in trying to sell a bill of such goods a week or so ago remarked in passing that "this is the day of easy marks," and then proceeded to unload on the unwary. It may be well to remember there are many "astute" money changers in the big cities who are loaded up with the German coinage and who are casting right and left to find a market for their unpopular treasure. There is always a temptation to buy a hundred thousand dollars "worth" of money for a five-dollar bill or whatnot. Those who are inclined to yield to such Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford temptation, however, should remember the Confederate bills that are stacked up in the garrets of little homes from the Atlantic to the Pacific, so that the great city propaganda begins, aimed at it will be first at "stabilizing the German monetary system," they will see the part of wisdom is to seal up their pocket books.

That Germany will come back there can be no doubt, because the Germans are an industrious people. They are likely to regain power while the world sleeps, but no matter how rapidly they get to their feet it is generally agreed that before they run very far the whole of their monetary system will have to be changed, and in the new issue of the national stock the existing financial tokens will be tremendously reduced in value if not entirely wiped out. Beware the Greeks bearing gifts may still with wisdom be kept in the public mind.

Men, buy 6 pairs of these 25c socks for 95c this week. All colors. Don't miss this bargain.—The Walsh Co.

A REMEDY FOR LIMBERNECK

Several times I have had trouble with chickens from limberneck and have always cured it with dog fennel tea. As they have no control of themselves and seem to be blind this is the way I test them: Put some bread in the tea and feed it to them and then pour some of it down their throats.—A Subscriber.

CENTRE BOARD OFFERS PRESIDENCY TO IOWAN

At a meeting of the board of directors of Centre College Tuesday afternoon it was unanimously decided to extend to Dr. R. A. Ames Montgomery, president of Parsons College, at Fairfield, Iowa, the presidency of Centre College.

Dr. Montgomery visited Danville in January and was favorably impressed with the city and the college. It is thought he will accept the offer.

He has been president of Parsons College since 1917 and in that time has added greatly to the student body and to the endowment fund of the institution. He is a graduate of Miami College and McCormick Theological Seminary at Chicago.

Dr. Hinnitt, who was president of Centre College from 1904 to 1914, was also from Parsons College.

A Fable—Once upon a time a love epistle ended with the warning to "burn this letter"—and the recipient did. Now you tell one.

One reason, perhaps, why so many Indians voted for Mr. Beveridge is because they thought he was a new kind of hootch.
